

An African proverb states:
"A dead goat no longer fears the knife."

To all migrant communities in Hamburg
To all those, who have not betrayed their own hearts and souls

Saturday, June 8th 2013, 12 o'clock
Hamburg Centralstation Hachmannplatz

We call on everyone to come and join us on the street in a show of solidarity and unity to fight for our rights as human beings.

We survived the NATO-war in Libya but we lost everything we were able to build up in Libya. In the name of democracy and human rights the NATO-states set Libya on fire. The consequences of this war have its effect far beyond the borders of Libya.

We, the refugees from Libya, living now in Europe, are the witnesses of those crimes. We came to Europe against our will and because of the western intervention. There is no going back.

We saw horrible things and had to overcome many obstacles. Now we are living as unwanted immigrants on the streets of those countries that speak of humanitarian protection but do not put it into practice.

Now, we are being forced to fight for our survival because a new war in the name of democracy and human rights has started.

- >To all our brothers and sisters, who due to the interests of the powerful states also became refugees,
- >To all our brothers and sisters, who are discriminated and demeaned because of the colour of their skin,
- >To all our brothers and sisters, who arrived on this continent earlier and also suffered from the pain of rejection,
- >To all our younger brothers and sisters, who were born here but still are treated and seen as „foreigners“,
- >To all people who see freedom and justice in unity and who are ready to stand for it.

Please join us, the refugees from Libya, "Lampedusa in Hamburg" on the street.

It is the NATO's and the European Union's fault that we are here.
We are human beings and have right. If the law is against us, it has to be changed or abolished.
The law was made for the man and not the man for the law.
